Scope of Practice

International Arbitration

David A R Williams QC is a graduate of the University of Auckland (LLB, 1965) and of Harvard University (LLM, 1966). In 1969, he joined leading litigation firm, Russell McVeagh, where he was subsequently made partner. He later moved to the independent Bar, attaining the rank of Queen's Counsel in 1987. Mr Williams served as a judge of the High Court of New Zealand from 1992 to 1994 before returning to practice as a barrister.

Mr Williams has developed a global international arbitration practice through which he has been involved, most often as President of the Tribunal, in over 150 international arbitrations. He serves part-time as the President of the Court of Appeal of the Cook Islands. He is an Honorary Professor at the University of Auckland, where he teaches international arbitration. Together with Amokura Kawharu, Mr Williams is co-author of Williams and Kawharu on Arbitration, New Zealand's first comprehensive treatise on domestic and international arbitration. He is currently writing the second edition.

In this capacity, Mr Williams has been involved in appeals relating to doping offences (in connection with the Olympic Games and the Tour de France), sanctions imposed by various sporting unions, and numerous breach of contract cases.

Selected Recommendations

Mr Williams has a reputation as “... one of the world’s outstanding commercial arbitrators” (Who’s Who Legal, 2005). Notable recent recommendations include:

- “David Williams QC is a ‘greatly respected’ and ‘incredibly talented’ silk. The ‘extremely able’ David Williams QC is a ‘pleasure to work with’ having vast experience in a variety of arbitration related matters”. (Who’s Who Legal, 2016 (UK Bar))
- “New Zealand-based David Williams QC of Essex Court Chambers is a former New Zealand High Court Judge who ‘is regarded as one of the world’s top arbitrators,’ according to market sources. A specialist in investment treaty issues and hugely experienced in the management of commercial disputes, he has presided over numerous ICSID, SIAC and UNCITRAL arbitrations.” (Asia Pacific Chambers, 2015)
- “[David Williams QC] ... has a solid reputation built over many years of acting on the largest cases in the field. He now primarily acts as an arbitrator, focusing largely on the Asia-Pacific region. Sources say: ‘He is absolutely in the top band on a worldwide level’.” (Chambers Global, 2014 (international arbitration))
- “[David Williams QC is an] outstanding ... internationally renowned arbitrator who acts on many of the top-end international disputes in Asia. Currently New Zealand-based, he brings vast global arbitration experience to act for high-profile clients across the region, in the commercial and investment spheres.” (Chambers Asia, 2014)
- “[David Williams QC] has garnered considerable acclaim for his work as an arbitrator.” (Chambers and Partners, 2013)
- “David Williams QC is characterised as ‘sensible, pragmatic and excellent in the technical aspects of arbitration’.” (Chambers Europe, 2012)
- “[David Williams QC] has been in high demand of late. A ‘charming and decisive chairman’, he inspires confidence in clients and counsel alike by firmly guiding proceedings forward whilst also retaining a relaxed atmosphere.” (Chambers UK, 2012)
- “David Williams QC is in a league of his own in New Zealand.” (Who’s Who Legal, 2010 (Commercial Arbitration))
